You Are Invited To Attend

Flexsimposium

Tues Oct 4, 2011

Zermatt Resort, Midway, Utah

You are invited to attend the Flexsimposium -- Flexsim's User Group Conference. This year's Flexsimposium will be held October 4, 2011, at the Zermatt Resort, Midway, Utah.

The Flexsimposium will provide opportunities to network with simulation professionals, project managers, engineers and see what others are doing with the software. The conference will include a review of the next generation of Flexsim simulation software and its 2012 release schedule. Attendees will learn how to implement the latest software developments and will preview the new Flexsim simulation software developments that have taken place over the past year. Admission is free to all end-users who are current on their maintenance agreement or who have purchased new licenses after October 2010.

Following the Flexsimposium, Flexsim Course 1 and 2, Flexsim Healthcare Course 1 and 2 Training Sessions will be held. Course 2 Training is designed for those who have attended Course 1, or have completed projects in Flexsim. On Friday October 7 there will be a lean healthcare training for all who have attended the healthcare course 1 and 2.

The Flexsimposium is also an opportunity for us to thank our software clients and friends for their continued support. On Tuesday night, Flexsim Software Products, Inc. will host a dinner, and entertainment. Spouses are invited to attend.

Complete the registration form and secure your spot for what will be the most important event in simulation software this year.
